Austrians Gain Over Italians While French Oust Germans From Fort On Hill 304 Near Verdun

London, May 18.—The Austrian offensive on the Italian front is being pushed vigorously, according to current official reports, and the Italians admittedly have fallen back in the Southern Tyrol before the Austrian onslaught.

The course of the operations is being closely watched in capitals of both the entente and central powers. Military observers in Paris express confidence that the Italian defense will prevent Austrian penetration into the Vienna plain, the apparent objective of the attacking forces.

In the fighting about Verdun the French, who have been retreating under German occupation of parts of the dominating heights known as Hill 304 northwest of the fortress, have now succeeded in partly ousting the Germans. Paris today reports the capture of a German fortified position on the northeast slope of the hill.

On the German side an attempt was made by means of several attacks to capture a redoubt at Avo-court, on the French left flank, but the assaults are declared to have been repulsed with heavy losses to the arms.

Other operations in the Verdun region, according to the Paris afternoon bulletin, were confined for the most part to a successful raid by the French on German trenches north of Hill 267, west of Hill 304 and to heavy firing by the artillery, which was active all along this front during the night.

A WATER THAT CORRECTS CONSTIPATION

Wash the Toxic Poison From Your System Before Breakfast. Feel Good All Day Long.

Your manner of life allows but little time for exercise. Nature intended you to have a lot. When you don't get it nature can't carry off the excess food. It clogs the intestines and turns to poison, which your blood takes up, then you have a headache, your skin turns yellow, you get dizzy, have a pain in our side; you feel depressed and unfit.

Every morning you should pour out about one-third of a tumbler of Tollo Water, fill with plain water and drink it. By the time you are ready for breakfast it will clean your stomach of the poisonous waste; in a little while it will clean the entire intestinal canal and make you feel inside just as clean and fresh as soap and water makes your skin.

It is really more important to keep clean inside than to clean your skin. Dirt on your skin will not be absorbed into your body, but the poison from waste in the stomach and intestines is absorbed into the blood.

Tollo Water from Dawson Springs, Kentucky, will clean the delicate lining of your thirty feet of intestines and give you that clean, invigorated feeling that comes only from good health. It doesn't cost much and your drug-gist will be glad to supply you. Take it each morning, get back your healthy color, wake up feeling fresh and ready for the day.

Woman Claims That Girl Whom She Befriended Robbed Her

Mrs. Sophia Hicks, of 2202 Sixth street after telling the police how a strange girl she had befriended "turned ingrate," swore to an affidavit in the mayor's court Thursday afternoon, charging Miss Edna Tipton with grand larceny.

The affidavit accuses Miss Tipton, whose home is in Kentucky of stealing $41 in cash, a brooch valued at $15 and a locket worth $10.

Mrs. Hicks, who is the wife of Arthur Hicks, a brickworker, from whom she was recently estranged, said she met the Hicks girl at the street fair the latter part of last week. Miss Tipton told her that a Versailles, Ky., man had brought her to Portsmouth and then abandoned her and that she had no place to go. Pitying her she took the girl into her home but after a day or two elapsed her mother objected to allowing the stranger to remain, particularly as she showed no disposition to work. Mrs. Hicks then suggested to the girl that she answer an ad. in The Times from a Fifth street family wanting a girl servant.

She declined to go, and Mrs. Hicks herself went to the home in the interest of the girl Thursday afternoon and when she returned was surprised to find the girl had decamped. The next instant she found her suit case open and her pocketbook and money and other valuable missing. The mother had not noticed the girl leave the house.

Mrs. Hicks, who was formerly the wife of Painter Ed Guthrie, was greatly excited over her loss, upsetting as it did her plans to pay a visit to her father in Indiana. She had sold some personal effects in order to get enough money.

Alkali in Soap Bad For the Hair

Soap should be used very carefully, if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it. The best thing for steady use is just ordinary mild coconut oil (which is pure and greaseless), and is better than the most expensive soap or anything else you can use. One or two teaspoonfuls will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, and easy to manage. You can get purified coconut oil at any pharmacy, it's very cheap, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months.

Simple Home Treatment To Remove Hairy Growths

You will not be disappointed with this treatment if you are sure to obtain real delatone from your druggist.

DRIVER OF DEATH AUTO IS FINED; SENT TO JAIL

In his maiden case as chief executive of the village of Sciotoville, Mayor Eugene Hsaguard, fined David Ealey, 26, Chinmville, Ky., $50 and costs and sentenced him to fifteen days in the county jail on a charge of operating an automobile while in an intoxicated condition. The hearing was held Thursday afternoon at two o'clock and sentence was passed after the prisoner entered a pleading of guilty through his attorney, Phil Jacobs.

Ealey, who was driving the Ford automobile when it turned turtle at the Sciotoville cross roads Tuesday night, killing Mrs. Anna Burgess and Grover Cleveland Adkins appeared to be nervous throughout the hearing which was very short. His counsel pleaded with the mayor to suspend the jail sentence but he refused.

"I do not desire to punish anyone in this case," said Mayor Hsaguard. "But two lives were lost and I not only have to sympathize with you but I have to remember the unfortunate woman and the little baby. I will fine you $50 and costs and sentence you to 15 days in the county jail."

Sheriff E. W. Smith brought the prisoner back to Portsmouth after the sentence was pronounced. Attorney J. E. Johnley represented Prosecuting Attorney Jos. T. Micklethwait at the hearing.

Harry Davis, 27, and Lucile Burgess, 2, who were seriously injured when the Ealey automobile turned turtle at Sciotoville Tuesday at midnight, are reported to be improving. Both the baby and the young man spent a restful night, although they suffered considerably Wednesday. Davis has completely regained consciousness and fear of internal injuries of a critical nature is gone.

The remains of Mrs. Anna Burgess and Grover Cleveland Adkins were shipped to Russell, Ky., Wednesday afternoon by the P. C. Daehler undertaking establishment.

When seen Thursday morning by Prosecuting Attorney Joseph T. Micklethwait, Harry Davis, the young roadman, claimed that he did not know whether Ealey was speeding at the time of the accident but that all three of the men in the party had been drinking.

"I don't know any more about the accident than the man in the moon," said Davis, in answer to a question. "No. I don't remember that we had been driving fast. We were just out for a little drive and came to Portsmouth. I know that we were on our way back when the accident happened. About the booze? Well, we had some beer. I don't remember that we bought any beer in Portsmouth but we bought some at Ironton. The Ealey man, Adkins and myself went into the saloon at Ironton and bought some. I ordered a dozen bottles and put them in a basket and paid for them. We all three drank some of the beer. Yes. Ealey was driving the car."

"We stopped at a saloon in New Boston and all three went into the saloon but I don't remember that the officials stopped us for speeding. We also stopped at a restaurant in Portsmouth and bought some sandwiches."

"I wasn't drunk. Ealey ought not to have been. No I really don't know whether we were speeding or not. I don't think I was paying very much attention."

Lucile Burgess, the motherless child was sitting in Miss Strong's office, while the prosecutor was there, playing with a magazine. Her head was swathed in bandages. When her wounds are healed she will be sent to the home of her uncle, Ellis Burgess, Chinmville, Ky.

The funeral services of the Adkins child took place Thursday afternoon at Chinmville, Ky., the services being in charge of Rev. N. C. Cochrane, of West Virginia. Burial was in the Palmer cemetery near Russell.

Motorcycle Runs Into Sheriff's Automobile

Sheriff Pete Smith's Mitchell touring car and a motorcycle belonging to Ora Meade of Sciotoville came together in front of William Carter's grocery at New Boston Wednesday afternoon. The sheriff was turning into Galliea street from Park avenue, and Meade was coming west on Galliea on the left side of the street. The motorcycle crashed into the front of the automobile, damaging the radiator and breaking a lamp.

The front wheel of the motorcycle was crushed and the front forks bent. Meade and the motorcycle were pushed several feet before the automobile could be brought to a stop. Meade escaping with a bloody nose. The automobile was taken to Priehard's garage for repairs while the motorcycle was left in a room at the York and Hans saloon.

over Sunday.

Rev. Steimen preached an interesting sermon at Mount Pleasant Sunday morning.

An Old Alarm Clock.

At Scherburn, in the Black forest, there is a respectable alarm clock that warned sleepers it was time to get up when Charles I. was king of England. This was made in 1680, and it is deemed a remarkable piece of workmanship.

In form it resembles a lantern wherein is a lighted candle, the wick of which is automatically clipped every minute by a pair of scissors. The candle is slowly pushed upward by a spring, which also controls the mechanism of the clock, and at the required hour of waking an alarm is sounded, and at the same time the movable sides of the lantern fall, and the room is flooded with light.

Peterson Bros. Dear Sirs: I was afflicted with what the doctors said was Varicose Ulcers, and up until about five weeks ago I have been treating them for about a year and five months. With all the treatments that were prescribed to me by several doctors I received little benefit, and they kept spreading and gave me much distress and caused me to quit my work.

It was induced by a brother brakeman to try Peterson's Ointment, and after I had used two boxes I saw the wonderful results. You can tell suffering ones troubled with ugly, painful and horrid ulcers that your Ointment is a cure for them when everything else fails, as I have tried almost everything.

Thanking you many times over, I am your happy friend, Chas. J. Heiser, 1414 1/2 Creek, Mich. & Glenwood Ave., Jan. 12, 1916.

"I know and dozens of people write me," says Peterson, "that Peterson's Ointment also cures eczema, old sores, salt rheum, piles and all skin diseases, and all druggists sell a big box for 25 cents."

K. of C. Minstrel Financial As Well As Artistic Success

Charles Mayne, of Ironton, state deputy of the Knights of Columbus, honored local members of the order by his presence at the minstrel performance, repeated by Portsmouth council at St. Mary's school hall, Wednesday night.

Mr. Mayne, who for the past two years has been the ranking officer of the Knights of Columbus, in Ohio, was made the butt for many of the jokes of the end men. He was accompanied by Mrs. Mayne and both greatly enjoyed the entertainment.

One diversion not on the program and which took the audience by storm was when Edmund Krieger and Robert Monk, who are possessed of splendid alto and tenor voices respectively, unexpectedly arose from their seats during the encore given Carl Wolfe, a baritone soloist, and greatly enhanced the effect of his rich baritone voice by joining him in the singing of a ballad.

The knights showed their appreciation of Mesdames George Lander and Martin McMahon participating in the opening part by presenting each with a beautiful bouquet of flowers. The hall was again packed to its utmost capacity and on the two entertainments the knights cleared between $250 and $300.

Police received a hurry call to Plum street, Earlytown, Thursday, to assist in running down Arthur Filmore, who had been caught attempting to rob a two story house tenanted by foreigners.

The foreigners were returning to their home for lunch when they discovered Filmore inside. He had saved a Yale lock in two in gaining entrance to the house. Whipping out a revolver Filmore held the foreigners at bay in one room of the house until he could back over to a window of the second story from which an instant later he jumped to the ground, making his escape in the direction of Kendall avenue from where he rode a passing freight train down to Lawson's Run.

Officer Jim Goad made a vigorous search for the young man but was unable to find any trace of him. He was reported to have run down Funk's Gut, thence going down the Ohio river in a canoe which he had conveniently hidden near the mouth of the former stream. VEGETABLE CALOMEL
Vegetable calomel, extract of the root of the old-fashioned may-apple plant, does not salivate. As a liver stimulant, it's great. It's a perfect substitute for ordinary calomel (mercury); in fact, it's better, because its action is gentle instead of severe and irritating—and it leaves no mean, disagreeable after-effects. Physicians recognize this and prescribe may-apple root (pudophyllin) they call it. It's a standard remedy for four other standard ailments: (1) constipation, may-apple root may now be had at most any druggist's in convenient sugar-coated tablet form by asking for Santalene Laxatives. If you forget the name, ask for the box that has the picture of the soldier on it. These tablets are small, easy to take and are really wonderful little performers.

They quickly clean out the poisons that are causing your headache, constipation, sour stomach, biliousness, dizzy spells, bad breath and coated tongue.

They are mild. They never gripe. And they are a bowel tonic as well as a cleanser and liver regulator. A 10c box should last you several weeks. A Physician's trial package (4 or 6 doses) will be mailed you free if you write mentioning this advertisement. The Santalene Remedies Co., 802 Madison Ave., Covington, Ky.

THE PRESBYTERIANS ARE IN SESSION

Atlantic City, N. J., May 18.—Interest in the first day's sessions of the Presbyterian General Assembly, which began its 125th annual meeting here today, centered in the election of a moderator to succeed the Rev. J. Ross Stevenson, president of Princeton Theological Seminary. There were a number of candidates, but leaders among the 2,000 delegates predicted that the assembly would set a precedent by selecting the Rev. W. L. McKean, of Pittsburgh. It is customary to alternate between the east and west in the high offices of the church. Names included Rev. John A. Marquis, Cedar Rapids, Iowa; Rev. George L. Robinson, Chicago; and Rev. Dr. Hugh A. Walker, of Los Angeles. A successor to the late Dr. Noble, of San Francisco, the permanent clerk, was also to be chosen at today's sessions. Dr. Stevenson was to preach the opening sermon and preside during the election of officers.

The gathering was considered one of the most important in the history of the church. Among the matters to be considered are an overture from the Cincinnati Presbytery for the expulsion of the New York Presbytery on charges of ordaining many of the essential beliefs of the church, ministerial relief and sustentation and the proposed consolidation of the college board and the board of education.

The long standing controversy over the supervision of the expenditure of endowment funds of the Union Seminary, New York, also will be considered.

AUSTRIANS ARE GAINING

fort on the northeast slope of Hill 304.

Three German trenches north of Hill 287 were raided by French forces which killed or captured the occupants of these positions. On the Verdun front east of the Meuse the artillery on both sides was active during the night. Two French aeroplanes dropped eighty more shells on the railway station at Metz on the night of May 16.

Paris, May 18.—The attack launched by the Austrians against the Italian front in the Southern Tyrol, which has gradually extended to the entire Austro-Italian front, is being followed here with close attention. It is generally believed in military circles that the great Austrian offensive which has been expected for some time past, has at last begun.

No importance is attached to the falling back of the Italian advance lines which is considered an obvious move as they were not sufficiently strong to resist an attack on a large scale. Although the Italian central position on the Lavarone plateau is not yet involved, it is thought probable that the principal effort of the Austrians will be made in that direction. It seems evident that the Austrian general intends to carry out their former plan of smashing their way through to the Vienna Plain.

Military authorities are assured that the Austrians are doomed to failure regardless of what efforts they may make. It is pointed out that the Italians have made every possible preparation for just such an attack as the present, and that the most powerful defenses, that engineering, skill and device have been prepared on the Asiago plateau and in the mountains northwest of Arsiero. It is on this line that the Italians are expected to make their real stand in event the Austrians continue to push their offensive.

CLEVELAND'S PROPERTY VALUATION INCREASED

Cleveland, May 18.—After eight months work County Auditor Zangerle finds that Cleveland's downtown property has increased in value $37,296,000 since 1910. The section which has been revalued includes the property north and east of the river and west of East 14th street. Its value is placed at $158,736,000, one-half the city's total. The total increased valuation is estimated at $102,296,000. In taxes, at the present rate of $1.51 per $100, this would mean an increase of $1,500,000. Auditor Zangerle favors lowering the tax rate as a result of this increased valuation.

Portsmouth Gains 2 Trains By New C. & O. Schedule

For the first time since the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway was built through South Portsmouth, this road, beginning Sunday, May 28, when a new spring time-table will become effective, will operate a through fast morning train from Cincinnati to New York.

It will be known as No. 6, the "New York Special."

It will leave Cincinnati at 8:15 a. m. and will arrive at South Portsmouth at 11:07 a. m. It will arrive in New York at 8:20 a. m.

It was stated Thursday that for several years C. & O. officials had been devising a way that would enable them to operate a fast morning train to New York from Cincinnati, but it was not until recently that passenger traffic became such that they saw their way clear to add this train to its passenger schedule.

During the Jamestown Exposition the C. & O. operated a morning fast train east, but it only went as far as Richmond.

The new time-table effective Sunday, May 28, also calls for an additional fast westbound morning train. It will be known as No. 1 and will leave here at 8:09 a. m., arriving in Cincinnati at 11 a. m.

No. 5, known as the Chicago train, now leaving at 5:20 a. m., will leave at 4:55 a. m.

No. 3 to Cincinnati, now leaving at 1:55 p. m., at which hour it has reached South Portsmouth for years, will leave at 2:10 p. m.

No. 2, eastbound for New York, will continue to leave South Portsmouth at 2:52 p. m.

No. 4 to Washington and Old Point Comfort, now leaving at 11:57 p. m., will leave at 12:04 a. m.

According to local C. & O. officials, there will also be several slight changes in local trains operated by the C. & O., but they will not be announced for several days.

The fact that the C. & O. will add two fast trains to its present schedule, one to be a fast morning train for New York, will no doubt be received with genuine pleasure by the traveling public here and all along the C. & O.

"EACH HAD A TEMPER ABOUT ALIKE," IS CLAIM OF ACCUSED HUSBAND

John Lewis, a well known steel mill man, faced Mayor Kaps Thursday morning on a charge of assaulting his wife, Rena Lewis.

Lewis was arrested at his home on Walnut street, East Portsmouth Wednesday night on complaint of his wife. He was under the influence of liquor and using profane language. Mrs. Lewis told the officer that Lewis had struck at her with a chair but a son interfered and instead of hitting her the chair struck the kitchen cabinet.

Lewis admitted that he had struck at his wife but said it was done in the heat of passion and that he was sorry a minute after it happened. Asked what was really the trouble he said it was because both he and wife were about of the same temper.

The couple have five children, the oldest 21 years and the youngest 4 years and one of them is now bedfast with illness. The mother was unable to leave the stricken child, and for that reason could not appear in court. Lewis himself is temporarily incapacitated for work, having fractured an ankle bone recently and is forced to use crutches.

The mayor told him that he did not wish to impose any hardship upon him and therefore suspended action pending good behavior, advising him to "soft pedal" on his drinking, try to get his foot healed up, return to work and take care of his family instead of abusing them.

If "Deaf" Man Can Hear Miss 30 Days In The

The police have in their custody a stranger giving the name of E. H. Ward, whom they strongly suspect of being an impostor or "fake dummy".

Ward was arrested at the Bank Cafe by Officer Price Wednesday afternoon at the instance of Officer Dunham.

he claiming to have been injured in a recent mine explosion. His right ear was partly torn off which lent some color to his story. Dunham had just handed him a dime when suddenly he thought he recognized in him the same man who had greeted him in Kelso's saloon the night before and who had offered to buy a drink for him. He had a companion at the time and Dunham listened to their talk for a few minutes.

When brought into court Thursday morning Ward still seemed unable to hear anything that was said to him, repeatedly pointing to his ear to indicate that he was deaf.

The mayor ordered him held until night when Officer Dunham will be heard from. "We will give him sixty days in the workhouse and then tell him we will cut it to 30 if he will break his silence and that'll make him talk, all right," said the mayor.

Reeb Turns In Another Victory; Lexington Beaten Again

Four Straight Taken From Guyn's Team; Boys Home For 8 Days

Lexington, Kentucky, May 18.

PORTSMOUTH won their fourth straight of the series here Wednesday. The game was played under protest of Manager Guyn of the Lexington team after the fourth inning. In the last half of the fourth with two men on Hanna three bused down right foul line. Umpire Crone called half fair but reversed his decision and sent Hanna back to bat. Following another close decision in eighth Lexington rushed at Crone again and two of them were chased from the lot after the police were called to clear the grounds. Considerable excitement prevailed during the argument, but no one was injured. After the game Manager Guyn announced that he would file a protest with President Joe Carr.

The hitting of Reeb, McHenry, Dille and Bush featured yesterday's game. Reeb had the home team completely at his mercy and fanned seven Colts, making 18 men he has struck out the last two games to which he has officiated. Fowler replaced Hanna when he was driven from the slab in the eighth frame. The score:

The team arrived home this morning from Lexington. Manager Spencer and his fledglings wore their broadest smiles.

Four straight was stepping some. And from the Colts, too. Must have good team. Should say so.

It was said to be the first time that a convict team, unguarded, has been permitted to play outside of prison walls.

Proceeds of the game will go to charity.

The prison band, composed of thirty convicts, accompanied the

The sporting editor of the Ohio Penitentiary News, which is published by convicts within the prison, represented his paper, which will carry a full account of each play.

Several prison officials attended the game, but none of them was armed, all of the convicts being on their honor not to attempt to escape.

Cincinnati, May 18.—When Joe Bishow, the matchmaker of the Broadway Athletic Club cast his eyes about for the May card at Redland Field, he was in the position of a man at sea surrounded by wreckage. Everywhere he looked he could see bays but no two were of championship caliber.

Dr. Edwards' STRENGTH TONIC

This Tonic which Dr. Edwards recommends is designed to restore strength to the weak, strength to the muscles, strength to the mind and strength to the nerves.

It is given to restore to the blood that rich red color which every weak and run-down person must have before he can get well and strong.

That Natural Ruddy Color

Of good health is absent in cases of thin, weak and run-down patients. Their cheeks, lips and eyelids lack that normal blood tint and the feeling of well-being is not with them. Dr. Edwards' Strength Tonic restores the color to the blood, drives away that sickly greenish pallor of the complexion and supplies fuel for the vital fire in weak and thin people.

Nervous Patients

Dr. Edwards says patients are nervous because they do not have enough rich, red blood to feed the nerves. So he made this Tonic to give the blood just what it needs for that purpose.

Sugar Coated Tablets

Dr. Edwards has his Tonic put in a sugar coated tablet so it will be pleasant to take and will not injure the teeth. Pale, thin, weak and run-down people contract diseases more frequently than well ones. They are liable to have Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Bright's Disease, Nervous Dyspepsia, Insanity, Fevers and Consumption.

Don't Have These

Why not put yourself in shape not to have these diseases by letting Dr. Edwards' Strength Tonic help you out of your nervous and run-down condition? It will build you up right from the start by increasing your appetite, toning up the nervous system, enriching the blood and increasing your vital force. For sale by your druggist.

Carlyle Blackwell at The Lyric Today

When "The Shadow of Doubt" is shown in this city persons will realize that it is one of the most perfectly produced motion pictures ever made. This is due to the interpretation of the story by a company of players judiciously selected to characterize the different roles as the author intended they should be, is what makes "The Shadow of Doubt" a feature among features. Lyric today—10 cents.

Like a merry little whirlwind, Triangle play, "Peggy." Peggy from America, upsets the traditions of the pretty Scottish mountain hamlet where she goes to live after her father's death. Billie Burke stars in this Incehome with him. Peggy accepts the invitation and comes breezing into the little town of Woodkirk, in the Scottish highlands, one bright Sunday morning. Her automobile causes consternation among the villagers.

Andrew Cameron, (William H. Thompson) the uncle, is a dour old Scot, who doesn't approve of Peggy or her car. He and the minister, Rev. Donald Bruce (William Desmond), surprise Peggy working under her machine in overalls. Her uncle is shocked and forbids her ever to appear again in masculine garb. Nevertheless Peggy dons her cousin's masculine dress one night and goes for a spin. It starts to rain and the automobile

GERMS ARE DANGEROUS

Do not overlook the importance of having your home entirely free from disease germs which lurk in many places even in the most modern homes and become dangerous to good health. Every home should have a bottle of Icyolite antiseptic ready for instant use, as there is nothing so effective when applied to burns, scratches or bruises, because Icyolite instantly kills the germs that infect the wound or bruise.

For acid mouth, for cleansing the crevices as well as the surfaces of the teeth Icyolite is positively necessary. Rinse the mouth and gargle with a few drops of Icyolite and you will escape throat troubles and other germ diseases and the mouth and breath will be clean and sweet. Icyolite is used extensively in hospitals, by dentists and physicians and sold by druggists most everywhere. It is the one thoroughly reliable antiseptic and should be in every home. CARUSO & HIS HARDMAN PIANO

The Official Piano of The Metropolitan Opera House

Look through the newspapers.

We wonder if this point has ever been brought before you.

Think it over the next time you see a sale of used pianos advertised, and notice that the Hardman Piano is almost never turned in in exchange for another instrument.

You will see sale after sale of other pianos advertised, but rarely, if ever, will you see the name "Hardman" among them. And more than 70,000 Hardman Pianos have been sold.

What greater proof can there be of the satisfaction that Hardman users find in this splendid instrument?

What greater proof can there be that the Hardman is THE piano for the American home?

We repeat—think it over.

SOCIETY

The home of Attorney and Mrs. Nate B. Gilliland, on Franklin avenue, was the scene of a very pretty wedding Wednesday evening, when their attractive young daughter, Hazel, was united in marriage to Mr. Clarence W. Coryell, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Coryell of Eleventh and Lawson streets. The officiating minister was the Rev. W. T. Gilliland, pastor of the Manly M. E. church, and the attendants Mrs. Mae Price White and Mr. Carl Brant, both of Sciotoville.

The bride becomingly attired in a lovely creation of sky-blue tulle with overdress of white Marquisette and pearl trimmings, wore a hat of white chiffon and carried a cluster of beautiful bride's roses. The nation of honor wore a dress of cloudy pink silk chiffon, and a white leg-horn hat.

After congratulations the guests enjoyed refreshments of brick ice-cream and cake. The guest list included Mr. and Mrs. Nate B. Gilliland, Mr. and Mrs. George Coryell, Mr. and Mrs. William B. Gilliland and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Shattery, son and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. George Pressler, son and daughter, of South Webster, Mrs. Mary Ford, Mrs. Martha Price and Mrs. Mae Price White, of Sciotoville, and Messrs. Evan Gilliland, John Barklow and Carl Brant.

The bride, a very popular young lady, was formerly employed in Popper's store on Chillicothe street. Mr. Coryell has operated a shoe repair shop on Offener street for some time. wedding announcement does not call for a present, although many people send a present upon receiving an announcement, when no invitations are issued. Or, gaudie would make a very serviceable wedding gown. Have it made short and you can wear it all summer.

To Clean Paint Brushes

No matter how hard a paint brush has become, it can be made as soft and clean as new, says R. A. Galliher, in Farm and Home, by simply boiling in water into which has been put a little lye. A little washing powder or soap will do, but it will take longer.

The brush should be placed on end and the boiling water should be no deeper than the length of the brush, as the boiling acids will injure the handle. Turpentine will clean paint brushes, but not after they have become real hard.

WHY DANDRUFF CAUSES BALDNESS

Some Facts That All Men and Women Should Learn Before It Is Too Late

Get rid of dandruff if you have it and the sooner the better. Dandruff causes baldness by clogging the pores of the scalp so that the hair roots do not obtain proper nourishment.

There is one delightful hair tonic so compounded that besides immediately ending itching scalp and quickly stopping hair from falling, will remove every particle of dandruff after just a few applications.

Ask your druggist for a bottle of Parisian Sage, a hair beautifier, tonic and scalp invigorator that as every druggist knows always produces results. Thousands of women use it because nothing else makes the hair so soft, abundant, radiantly beautiful and fascinating. Wurster Bros. always guarantees Parisian Sage.

Friends of Miss Hazel Gilliland have received cards announcing her marriage as follows:

You can keep your hair at its very best by washing it with this simple inexpensive shampoo, which cleanses the hair and scalp thoroughly of all the dandruff and dirt and leaves a clean, wholesome feeling. Just use a teaspoonful of canthox dissolved in a cup of hot water afterwards rinsing thoroughly with clean water. One finds that the hair dries quickly and evenly, is unstreaked, bright, soft and fluffy, so fluffy in fact that it looks more abundant than it is, and so soft that that arranging it becomes a pleasure. ## QUESTION OF REGULATING STREET FAIRS TAKEN UP BY COUNCIL, OTHER MATTERS

The question of regulating or properly licensing street fairs in the future was brought up at Wednesday night's meeting of city council.

Floor Leader Wilson said it was plainly evident that there was considerable agitation over the frequency with which carnival companies visit Portsmouth to the injury of business generally and he believed some measures ought to be taken to regulate them. Upon his motion the matter was referred to the ordinance committee to draft a proper ordinance.

Rules were suspended and an ordinance passed providing for a $42,000 bond issue to take care of the proposed new Hilltop sanitary sewer system. The assessment bond ordinance in the total sum of $104,500 to cover the deferred assessments on streets paved in 1915, was also passed.

An ordinance was passed appropriating $2,000 for new streets, walk ways, iron fence, painting lodge and building cement sidewalks in Greenlawn cemetery. Ordinances were also passed appropriating money for the construction of the following sanitary sewers:

Searl alley sewer, west of Off-nere between Twelfth and Robinson avenue, $198.80; Boundary street sewer, top of hill south to Lawson's Run, $72.00; Elmwood alley sewer, between Eighth and Ninth street, east from Broadway, $353.35; Schuler alley sewer, east of Madison street between Second and Third, $173.00; Taylor alley sewer west of Chillicothe street south from Ninth street, $120.85; Caphart alley sewer, west from Jefferson street, between Front and Second streets, $157.85.

Has No Authority To Improve Alley
Service Director Culvert reported that investigation shows that Webb alley, south of Second street, between Madison and Jefferson streets, had never been dedicated, so the city has no authority to improve it with a grade, as petitioned for.

Chairman Riekey reported that the street committee would approve payment to Henry Ruel for $245.00 "extras" at Scioto Point. An ordinance providing for the same was passed. Mr. Riekey said he had left at home a written petition from all abutting property owners for the paving of the alley west of Park avenue but upon his recommendation the petition was referred to the engineer for an estimate.

Mr. Rice presented a petition from residents of Sixteenth street from Chillicothe to Union, for the establishment of a sidewalk grade. Referred to street committee and service department.

Auditor Zucker's report of balances for the month ending April 30, 1916, showed a net balance in the city treasury of $92,370.72.

Papers Ordered Spread On Records

Auditor Zucker reported that there had been filed with him by Attorney Horace F. Small, as counsel for the petitioners, the court proceedings and petitions relative to establishing the new "wet" district in the East End. Under the law the same must be put on the city's records and council, by motion, ordered these papers spread upon council's minutes.

Mr. Wilson made a request for additional benches in the city parks. Referred to service department.

Attorneys Harry Ball and R. F. Kimble occupied seats in the lobby but when called upon said they had nothing to offer, having come merely to answer any questions that might be raised concerning the George Apple claim, growing out of the Mahler Road improvement. This was not brought up, however, it developing that the claim was still pending with the committee to which it had been referred.

"Father" Of Corrupt Practice Law Forgot To File Expense Account

J. F. John, deputy clerk of the Board of Elections, filed the names of the candidates at the April 25th primaries, who have filed their expense accounts with the board, as required by the "Corrupt Practice Law", with Attorney Edward C. Turner, Columbus.

One of the peculiar features of the report is that Attorney B. F. Kimble, father of the "Corrupt Practice Law" while a member of the state legislature from Adams county, failed to file his expense account as alternate to the Democratic state convention.

The following is a list of all candidates voted for at the primary election, April 25, 1916, who have filed their statements, also those filing after expiration of time, and those in default: Wm. M. Freeman, James Elmore, R. N. Tynes, W. R. Sprague, Gilbert Dodds, J. J. Davidson, H. H. Kaps, Ord Thompson, G. C. Johnson, J. F. Eekhart, W. S. Haney, H. H. Mitterdorf, W. G. Cheney, Frank Lair, John Duis, James A. Polson, Ernest Riekey, T. R. Craig, Charles E. Hard, Clifford Smith, Frank Parker, George L. Davis, Frank McCafferty, U. G. Chris Blume.

Those filing after expiration of time were: John M. Shaner, Wm. J. Gims, Charles W. Wilson, James S. Thomas. Those in default are: Wm. Bennett, B. F. Kimble, R. K. Day, Chris Blume.

Horace Reed Assaulted By Farm Hand, Injuries May Prove Fatal

Prof. Burton Reed, principal of the Sciotoville high school, has returned from his brother Horace Reed's bedside, near Chillicothe, about thirty-five miles east of Cincinnati.

Prof. Reed's brother was brutally assaulted by a farm hand last Monday afternoon. The farm hand, who answered to the name of Mahlon Hall, had quarreled with another tenant on the Reed farm and had hid himself in the Reed stable. When Reed went into the barn the man hit him on the head at the base of the brain with a rock and cut him about the head with a corn knife. The cuts penetrated to the skull. Hall escaped to Kentucky before authorities arrived on the scene. Mrs. Ida Reed, mother of Mr. Reed, is still at her son's bedside. Mrs. Reed lives in Sciotoville with her son Burton Reed. Word received late Wednesday was that Reed was still in a very serious condition.

OHIO RIVER WARMER LAST YEAR

George P. Shute, chief sanitary and hydraulic engineer of the Portsmouth water works, says the water from the Ohio river was warmer April 22 of last year than it is right now and that it will be a month behind in reaching a normal summer temperature. He says the water is very clear at present and owing to this condition less chemicals are required in treating the water at the filtration plant.

Eliminate Crossings, Subways Not Needed

The resolution passed by the county commissioners Wednesday, declaring their intention of vacating grade crossings along the Cincinnati division of the Norfolk and Western railway, was not for the purpose of building two underground crossings to take the place of four grade crossings, as first stated, but to eliminate four grade crossings between Henley and Otway. This report was announced through a misunderstanding between the commissioners and the clerk.

Mr. Watkins, president of the board, said Thursday that the pike crossed the railroad between Henley and Otway four times and all of these could be eliminated by building the road around the hill. He also said the railroad company had prepared plans for this road.

Will Whalen Here On Visit

Will Whalen, who formerly held a position at the state house in Columbus, is down from Huntington on a visit to his brother, Pat Whalen, and other relatives. Mike and Ed Whalen are also located at Huntington, the latter being on the road for a grocery firm, and the other holding a responsible position with a large glass concern. Mrs. Nora E. Mullahy and Mrs. P. J. Whalen have gone to Huntington to visit them and will be joined there Sunday by the latter's husband.

THE NEWEST REMEDY FOR BACKACHE, RHEUMATISM AND DROPSY

Kidney, Bladder and Uric Acid troubles bring misery to many. When the kidneys are weak or diseased, these natural filters do not cleanse the blood sufficiently, and the poisons are carried to all parts of the body. There follow depression, aches and pains, heaviness, drowsiness, irritability, headaches, chilliness and rheumatism. In some people there are sharp pains in the back and loins, distressing bladder disorders and sometimes obstinate dropsy. The uric acid sometimes forms into gravel or kidney stones. When the uric acid affects the muscles and joints, it causes lumbago, rheumatism, gout or sciatica. Write Dr. Pierce at once, send 10 cents for large trial package, or 50 cents for full treatment of "Anuric" or ask your druggist for it.

During digestion uric acid is meat eaten, and even from some vegetables. The poor kidneys get tired and backache begins, absorbed into the system from

This is a good time to take "Anuric", the new discovery of Dr. Pierce for Kidney trouble and Backache. Neglected kidney trouble is responsible for many deaths, and Insurance Company examining doctors always test the water of an applicant before a policy will be issued. Have you ever set aside a bottle of water for twenty-four hours? A heavy sediment or settling sometimes indicates kidney trouble. The true nature and character of diseases, especially those of the kidneys and urinary organs, can often be determined by a careful chemical analysis and microscopic examination—this is done by expert chemists of the Medical you wish to know your condition send a sample of your water to Doctor Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. ## HURLED TO STREET WHEN HIT BY MOTORCYCLE, LEG IS FRACTURED

William Williams, 25, N. & W. switchman, employed in the yards at East Portsmouth, had his right leg broken just above the ankle about 5:45 Wednesday evening when he was struck by a motorcycle ridden by Adolph Reinert.

Williams was on his way home after his day's work and just as he stepped from a west bound street car at the northwest corner of Eleventh and Lawson street, the motorcycle hit him and sent him sprawling to the paved street.

Two bones in the right leg were broken. Mr. Reinert assisted Mr. Williams to his feet and with the help of several bystanders, took Williams to his home, at 2211 Vinton street. Dr. G. W. Martin and Dr. William E. Gault were called and set the fractured bones.

Williams spent a very restless night but Thursday morning was reported better. He is married. He will be laid up for several months, the fracture being a serious one. It was reported in a number of places in the East End and in the N. & W. yards, where Williams worked, that he had been killed.

Reinert, who is collector for the W. L. Reinert Clothing Company on Gallia street, was returning from a trip to New Boston.

Negroes Drop "Craps" For Poker And Are Arrested; Police News

Police raided a poker game that was in full swing in an alley house between Thirteenth and Fourteenth streets, near Waller, late Wednesday night but succeeded in rounding up only four of the negro players, the remainder escaping in every direction.

Among those who escaped was a negro named Hogan who rented the house and who according to the others was running the game, he receiving the "take-off." Those caught by the police were all C. & O. Northern laborers and were nearly "broke," having only a few cents between them. They gave their names as Gus Gordon, Sam Brown, Lee Lewis and Jim Glenn. The latter denied that he was any kin to Henry Glenn, alias "High Yaller."

Glenn sent somewhat of a thrill over the court room when he told of having just come from a construction camp at Valley Crossing near Columbus, which he said was under quarantine because of smallpox. "Have you got smallpox?" quickly queried the court. "No, I have had it before," replied the negro, much to the relief of the court and persons present, particularly when he assured the mayor that he had been thoroughly fumigated before turned loose. The negroes were fined $25 each and committed to the county jail.

WHY NOT TAX STREET FAIRS?

The report of the city auditor for the year 1915, which has just been issued, shows that every form of amusement in Portsmouth is taxed or licensed, except one. Our local theatres, whether legitimate houses or moving picture houses, are compelled to pay a license. Vendors of all kinds, pool rooms, billiard rooms, bowling alleys, shooting galleries, fortune tellers, all have to pay. If a circus comes to town, it has to pay a big license. There is one exception, however, a notable exception. It is the Street Fair. This aggregation of amusements can come and go, cause all the trouble imaginable, leave a trail of robberies in its wake, make it necessary to put on extra police, but it is not required to contribute one penny toward the public treasury. Is this right? Would it be right even if the Street Fair was a highly elevating form of amusement which it is not?

The time for some action to be taken by the city legislative authorities is right now, when the season is early. Hitherto the matter has been brought up and while councilmen have agreed that some such action should be taken, they have hesitated and delayed action because some fraternity has made a contract to put on a Street Fair and has brought collective pressure to bear for postponement of action. Of course councilmen have not been doing their duty to the people by yielding to importunities or threats of displeasure, but in any event this condition cannot confront council now.

We trust that council will look upon the matter in the sense of protecting the general public and that prompt action will be forthcoming following the preliminary steps taken at Wednesday night's meeting.

ALL NOT GOLD THAT GLITTERS

Frequently of late agents have been in Portsmouth seeking laborers in various lines of employment and have held out glittering visions of conditions and wages in order to induce men to leave here and locate elsewhere. If a man can better himself permanently, our advice to him is to take advantage of the opportunity. But it is well not to put too much faith in the promises of the agent sent out to round up a force of men. His job is to get the men, get them by hook or crook, and if his promises are not realized there is no come-back on him. He has gotten his money and closed up the deal so far as he is concerned.

In the main, wages here, all conditions considered, are on a par with those paid elsewhere. Here and there rush orders may mean the payment of higher wages temporarily by some concern, but once the rush is over the high-priced men are turned loose. By the time the man has paid his expenses in moving away from here, and then in moving back when his job peters out, he has lost by the transaction. Frequently when he does come back he is unable to get a job here at once and the loss is still greater. And, it has been the experience locally, that most of those lured away by tempting offers come back, sorry that they ever left.

So, when the proposition of taking positions elsewhere comes up, look into the matter from all angles. Above all figure upon the permanency of the position and gather all the information you can upon that one point. If you decide that there is permanent opportunity to better yourself, take the position, if it should be but a temporary affair, and most of these glittering offers are of that nature, stay where you are. You will be better off in the long run.

Ironton is having trouble in disposing of $250,000 bonds to build a new water works. Only one offer was made for the bonds and it was at par. The matter of sale has been left open until Saturday and in the meantime effort is being made to dispose of the bonds elsewhere.

A valued correspondent of The Times, writing from near Wheelersburg this week, established a standard for strict veracity in the news which might well be followed not only in writing, but in conversation. In chronicling the details of a "House Cleaning" given by a lady of the neighborhood, our correspondent noted that a fine chicken dinner was served, and then added, with the strict adherence to the truth, before commented upon, that the dinner was enjoyed much more than the house cleaning.

The reckless fool and the boozier have no business driving automobiles for death and disaster are sure to follow in their wake. It is not surprising then that there should have been a tragedy at Sciotoville the other night. It now remains for the authorities to make an example, to see that the law of the state is rigidly enforced. If the man who drove that car was driving recklessly, if he was under the influence of liquor, he should be sent to the penitentiary and given plenty of time to reflect upon his misdeeds.

May be you think the Peerless is not spreading on some. Then just note that plans for the organization of a Country Club, with appurtenances of $25,000 house and grounds is well on the way to fruition.

Yes, there are some that don't like the location of the new station, but mostly they overlook the fact that there are in the two of 'em. Anyway a depot was never located and never will be where everybody is pleased with the site.

WHEN SPEEDING CEASES TO BE FUN

THE START IS AT HAND

The necessary preliminary advertising to contractors is now appearing in The Times and heralds the fact that nothing untoward is happening between the contract for the extension of the flood wall will be let within a couple of weeks and the actual beginning of work may be expected to soon follow.

Altogether it is rather strange that the important work of flood protection for the city, begun away back in 1908 and stopped when fairly started, has been permitted to lie so long dormant. The value of the system was more than satisfactorily demonstrated in the great waters of 1913, but even that great visitation did not quicken extensions. Certain and valuable as the flood wall is in protecting the city from inundation at 60 feet, it may be believed it will pay for itself in the enhancement of the value of property along Front and Mill street from Chillicothe street. This section, outside of the fact that it lies low, ought to be particularly desirable for residential purposes and it may be taken that with the completion of the wall it will come into good demand therefor.

We notice that the team of that other Portsmouth is walking right away from the field, just as our own noble athletes are doing in the Ohio State. May both clubs continue on their bounding way to the end and then we can stage a contest to show which is really entitled to the designation of the Peerless.

According to the Atlanta Constitution when Hughes is silent they don't know what to make of him, and when he talks he doesn't please them. So there they are, and where are they?

That was a pretty advertisement our valued business department made with our pink paper for Anderson Bros., but it made such inroads upon our stock of pink that unless we can beg, borrow or steal some colored stock somewhere, our Noon Extra will have to come out hereafter in faded old green or lily white. We have a lot of pale pink contracted for but the paper baron these days just serves you when he gets around to you and if you get gay and kick too much he tells you to go elsewhere, well knowing that there is nowhere else to go. We are just tipping it off to our patrons so that when the pink comes out green or white or pale lavender they will not be unduly shocked.

One day last week the Norfolk and Western hauled through the Peerless 12-24 cars of coal. Great is the N. & W. and we all think greater than ever, since that new station is no longer a "next year" proposition.

The Bluefield Telegraph tersely and truthfully observes that there are some business men who live on the town but not in it, referring, of course, to the pullbacks and the balking.

This certainly is an extravagant age and our memory goes back to the time when the same sort of people who now go to Battle Creek, Mich., for a couple of weeks used to buy half a dozen bottles of Peruna and apparently get along just as well.—Ohio State Journal.

Britons and Turks have fought hard but without frightfulness. Now the Turks are letting the British send a ship to Kut to get the sick and wounded of the surrendered garrison. ## How The Baby Gaters Hatch

HARDLY HAD the young alligators hatched out of their eggs before they waddled down to the river and plunged in. They seemed to know talk to. "I think their noses are so by instinct just where the water is and how to get into it and swim in it when they found it."

"Funny," mused Miss Chameloon. "I didn't see anybody tell those creatures where the water was—their mother was not even around!" (Which was exactly true.) "When she comes back she will be worried to death about them."

But Miss Chameloon need not have worried about Mrs. Gater and her worries. For Mrs. Gater, wise mother that she was, didn't have any worries—not a single solitary worry! Which was perhaps a very good state of mind for a mother of twenty or thirty youngsters, wasn't it?

After her twelve weeks of careful watching, Mrs. Gater merely made sure that all the eggs were hatched out; she poked around the rubbish pile a bit to make sure that every little gater had out his or her way through the hard shell, and then she went down to the river to have a good time of her own. Probably she thought that baby gaters who had been tended as carefully as hers had been ought to be able to look out for themselves.

Miss Chameloon ran down from her own tree and climbed up a bush near the river, where she could see all that was going on. Such a scrambling and splashing as there was! Every one of those gaters seemed to be foraging for a meal—and they seemed to be getting it too.

"Look at their funny noses!" laughed Miss Chameloon. "I'd hate to be as ugly as they are! Poor little things, to have such looks—I'm sorry for them."

"Sorry for whom?" said Aunt Chameloon, who happened to climb up that very bush in search of her dinner. "I don't see anybody to be sorry for."

"Poor little things, to have such looks—I'm sorry for them."

makes anything interesting, even if it may not be beautiful. If the baby gaters had no sharp noses they would never get out of their shells."

"No," asked Miss Chameloon. "No, indeed," said Aunt Chameloon, decidedly. "You see, alligator shells are hard, very hard, and the baby alligators have those knife-like noses so that they can cut their way out into the world. I saw a whole family of gaters hatch out—it was a long time ago, but it was a sight I shall never forget. Each gater gater out a round hole in the end of the shell just as neatly as a tin can. And then out through this hole crept the gater, up through the sand and rubbish he crawled, and down to the river he waddled. It was most interesting."

NEW-YORK-DAY-BY-DAY.

O.O. MCINTYRE.

New York, May 18—Cupid's honey-mooners have taken New York by storm. For this is the season when the hotel corridors and boarding house halls resound with billing and cooing and the crunching of rice under foot. A bumper crop of newlyweds have been harvested.

In the main dining-room of the large hotels you may see the advance guard of honey-mooners trying to look bored for the benefit of the waiters and playing feet under the table.

New York is getting to be worse than Niagara Falls as a honeymoon resort. Any time you board a Fifth avenue bus and take yourself to the hurricane deck for a bit of ozone your trip is liable to be entirely ruined by a couple of honeymooners from the Luckeberry Bell mooning right in front of your eyes.

But it means much for the Rubberneck Chariots. The season would be lean for them except for the newlyweds, for the foreigners who are flocking here from Europe can nothing for sight-seeing tours. People in New York spot the honeymooners right away, for one can always tell a bridegroom—but you cannot tell him much.

A burglar would have a merry little time trying to break into the branch of the new Corn Exchange Bank on upper Broadway. The vaults are protected by a most elaborate system of electric lights and mirrors. The space underneath them is brilliantly lighted and mirrors at the floor angles reflect everything that takes place beneath. A vertical mirror reveals to the night watchman the narrow passage between the vaults and the walls of the building.

Just how much control you may have over your neighbor is being demonstrated by an instrument called the Psychophometer, which is to demonstrate and measure human energy from an electrical standpoint.

The operator may attach a bandage to the arm of a man and from this bandage are extended wires to the machine. The machine has little electric lights attached and as the emotions of the patient are agitated, the lights shift and change from red to blue.

When the operator comes within a few feet of the man and points his hand at him, the light will run up and shift its color. This changing lights is brought about by the influence of one human body on another, and this without the bodies coming into actual contact. It is a measuring of the influence of mind over matter.

Those who wish to see hypnotism, mind-reading, witchcraft and magnetism demonstrated have seen it with this machine. It also explains some of the problems of Spiritualism and shows that there are evidently unseen worlds, too fine to be appreciated by our coarse, dull senses.

Baby week, that great celebration in which New York honored King and Queen baby last week, had the cordial co-operation of the roles for women forces. They have any number of babies themselves.

In fact babies are distinctly popular in suffrage families, in spite of the impressions spread by Mr. and Mrs. John Martin and others that the cause produces race suicide.

Suffrage decline to feature their babies in public, and therefore the plan of a suffrage baby fair was frowned upon by the leaders. But the woman suffrage organizations of the city and state co-operated with the municipalities in celebration of Baby Week.

A debonair tourist was Caruso sailing for home last week. The pier echoed with the cheer of his friends, who came to wish him bon voyage. Caruso grows more popular each year. As the ship sailed away he was humming a tune—about $500 worth—and he shouted that he would return in October.

Turning The Tables. The feminist age seems to have arrived with a vengeance. In Illinois the women can vote, and now they can wear the bloomers while bathing. The official bathing beach censor of Chicago has spoken.

Chicago's male bathers will wear the skirts this summer while the women splash merrily around in bloomers. The municipal bathing costumes will stack up like this:

For Women—Bloomers, long or shortness unlimited; a waist no stockings.

For Men—Ordinary bathing suits bedecked with a short skirt about the length of a "cumbly" grass apron.

There is never any sure way to get a line on the mental attitude of the male population of any city, but if the men of Chicago are not a lot of mollycoddlers they will tell the bathing censor to take a jump in the lake or some thing of that sort. Chicago met out to their sex the world over to turn down the skirt idea and for all.—Akron Beacon-Journal

Atlantic City, N. J., May 18.—Interest in the first day's sessions of the Presbyterian General Assembly, which began its 128th annual meeting here today, centered in the election of a moderator to succeed the Rev. J. Ross Stevenson, president of Princeton Theological Seminary. There were a number of candidates, but leaders among the 2,000 delegates predicted that the assembly would set a precedent by selecting the Rev. W. L. McEwan, of Pittsburgh. It is customary to alternate between the east and west in the high offices of the church. Names included Rev. John A. Marquis, Cedar Rapids, Iowa; Rev. George L. Robinson, Chicago; and Rev. Dr. Hugh A. Walker, of Los Angeles. A successor to the late Dr. Noble, of San Francisco, the permanent clerk, was also to be chosen at today's sessions. Dr. Stevenson was to preach the opening sermon and preside during the election of officers.

The gathering was considered one of the most important in the history of the church. Among the matters to be considered are an overture from the Cincinnati Presbytery for the expulsion of the New York Presbytery on charges of ordaining to the ministry men who disclaim many of the essential beliefs of the church, ministerial relief and sustentation and the proposed consolidation of the college board and the board of education.

The long standing controversy over the supervision of the expenditure of endowment funds of the Union Seminary, New York, also will be considered.

WHY NOT TAX STREET FAIRS?

The report of the city auditor for the year 1915, which has just been issued, shows that every form of amusement in Portsmouth is taxed or licensed, except one. Our local theatres, whether legitimate houses or moving picture houses, are compelled to pay a license. Vendors of all kinds, pool rooms, billiard rooms, bowling alleys, shooting galleries, fortune tellers, all have to pay. If a circus comes to town, it has to pay a big license. There is one exception, however, a notable exception. It is the Street Fair. This aggregation of amusements can come and go, cause all the trouble imaginable, leave a trail of robberies in its wake, make it necessary to put on extra police, but it is not required to contribute one penny toward the public treasury. Is this right? Would it be right even if the Street Fair was a highly elevating form of amusement which it is not?

The time for some action to be taken by the city legislative authorities is right now, when the season is early. Hitherto the matter has been brought up and while councilmen have agreed that some such action should be taken, they have hesitated and delayed action because some fraternity has made a contract to put on a Street Fair and has brought collective pressure to bear for postponement of action. Of course councilmen have not been doing their duty to the people by yielding to importunities or threats of displeasure, but in any event this condition cannot confront council now.

We trust that council will look upon the matter in the sense of protecting the general public and that prompt action will be forthcoming following the preliminary steps taken at Wednesday night's meeting.

ALL NOT GOLD THAT GLITTERS

Frequently of late agents have been in Portsmouth seeking laborers in various lines of employment and have held out glittering visions of conditions and wages in order to induce men to leave here and locate elsewhere. If a man can better himself permanently, our advice to him is to take advantage of the opportunity. But it is well not to put too much faith in the promises of the agent sent out to round up a force of men. His job is to get the men, get them by hook or crook, and if his promises are not realized there is no come-back on him. He has gotten his money and closed up the deal so far as he is concerned.

In the main, wages here, all conditions considered, are on a par with those paid elsewhere. Here and there rush orders may mean the payment of higher wages temporarily by some concern, but once the rush is over the high-priced men are turned loose. By the time the man has paid his expenses in moving away from here, and then in moving back when his job peters out, he has lost by the transaction. Frequently when he does come back he is unable to get a job here at once and the loss is still greater. And, it has been the experience locally, that most of those lured away by tempting offers come back, sorry that they ever left.

So, when the proposition of taking positions elsewhere comes up, look into the matter from all angles. Above all figure upon the permanency of the position and gather all the information you can upon that one point. If you decide that there is permanent opportunity to better yourself, take the position, if it should be but a temporary affair, and most of these glittering offers are of that nature, stay where you are. You will be better off in the long run.

Ironton is having trouble in disposing of $250,000 bonds to build a new water works. Only one offer was made for the bonds and it was at par. The matter of sale has been left open until Saturday and in the meantime effort is being made to dispose of the bonds elsewhere.

A valued correspondent of The Times, writing from near Wheelersburg this week, established a standard for strict veracity in the news which might well be followed not only in writing, but in conversation. In chronicling the details of a "House Cleaning" given by a lady of the neighborhood, our correspondent noted that a fine chicken dinner was served, and then added, with the strict adherence to the truth, before commented upon, that the dinner was enjoyed much more than the house cleaning.

The reckless fool and the boozier have no business driving automobiles for death and disaster are sure to follow in their wake. It is not surprising then that there should have been a tragedy at Sciotoville the other night. It now remains for the authorities to make an example, to see that the law of the state is rigidly enforced. If the man who drove that car was driving recklessly, if he was under the influence of liquor, he should be sent to the penitentiary and given plenty of time to reflect upon his misdeeds.

May be you think the Peerless is not spreading on some. Then just note that plans for the organization of a Country Club, with appurtenances of $25,000 house and grounds is well on the way to fruition.

Yes, there are some that don't like the location of the new station, but mostly they overlook the fact that there are to be two of 'em. Anyway a depot was never located and never will be where everybody is pleased with the site.

WHEN SPEEDING CEASES TO BE FUN

THE START IS AT HAND

The necessary preliminary advertising to contractors is now appearing in The Times and heralds the fact that nothing untoward is happening between the contract for the extension of the flood wall will be let within a couple of weeks and the actual beginning of work may be expected to soon follow.

Altogether it is rather strange that the important work of flood protection for the city, begun away back in 1908 and stopped when only fairly started, has been permitted to lie so long dormant. The value of the system was more than satisfactorily demonstrated in the great waters of 1913, but even that great visitation did not quicken extensions. Certain and valuable as the flood wall is in protecting the city from inundation at 60 feet, it may be believed it will pay for itself in the enhancement of the value of property along Front and Mill street from Chillicothe street. This section, outside of the fact that it lies low, ought to be particularly desirable for residential purposes and it may be taken that with the completion of the wall it will come into good demand therefor.

We notice that the team of that other Portsmouth is walking right away from the field, just as our own noble athletes are doing in the Ohio State. May both clubs continue on their bounding way to the end and then we can stage a contest to show which is really entitled to the designation of the Peerless.

According to the Atlanta Constitution when Hughes is silent they don't know what to make of him, and when he talks he doesn't please them. So there they are, and where are they?

That was a pretty advertisement our valued business department made with our pink paper for Anderson Bros., but it made such inroads upon our stock of Pink that unless we can beg, borrow or steal some colored stock somewhere, our Noon Extra will have to come out hereafter in faded out green or lily white. We have a lot of pale pink contracted for but the paper baron these days just serves you when he gets around to you and if you get gay and kick too much he tells you to go elsewhere, well knowing that there is nowhere else to go. We are just tipping it off to our patrons so that when the Pink comes out green or white or pale lavender they will not be unduly shocked.

One day last week the Norfolk and Western hauled through the Peerless 3,284 cars of coal. Great is the N. & W., and we all think greater than ever, since that new station is no longer a "next year" proposition.

The Bluefield Telegraph tersely and truthfully observes that there are some business men who live on the town but not in it, referring, of course, to the pullbacks and the bally.

This certainly is an extravagant age and our memory goes back to the time when the same sort of people who now go to Battle Creek, Mich., for a couple of weeks used to buy half a dozen bottles of Peruna and apparently get along just as well.—Ohio State Journal.

Britons and Turks have fought hard but without frightfulness. Now the Turks are letting the British send a ship to Kut to get the sick and wounded of the surrendered garrison. ## How The Baby Gaters Hatch

HAROLD HAD the young alligators hatched out of their eggs before they waddled down to the river and leon, delighted to find somebody to plunk in. They seemed to know by instinct just where the water was and how to get into it and swim in it when they found it.

"Funny," mused Miss Chamelion. "I didn't see anybody tell those creatures where the water was—their mother was not even around." (Which was exactly true.) "When she comes back she will be worried to death about them."

But Miss Chamelion need not have worried about Mrs. Gater and her worries, for Mrs. Gater, wise mother that she was, didn't have any worries—not a single solitary worry! Which was perhaps a very good state of mind for a mother of twenty or thirty youngsters, wasn't it?

After her twelve weeks of careful watching, Mrs. Gater merely made sure that all the eggs were hatched out; she poked around the rubbish pile a bit to make sure that every little gater had cut his or her way through the hard shell, and then she went down to the river to have a good time of her own. Probably she thought that baby gaters who had been tended as carefully as hers had been ought to be able to look out for themselves.

Miss Chamelion ran down from her own tree and climbed up a bush near the river, where she could see all that was going on. Such a scrambling and splashing as there was! Every one of those gaters seemed to be foraging for a meal—and they seemed to be getting it too.

"Look at their funny noses!" laughed Miss Chamelion. "I'd hate to be as ugly as they are! Poor little things, to have such looks—I'm sorry for them."

"Sorry for whom?" said Aunt Chamelion, who happened to elude up that way back in search of her dinner. "I don't see anybody to be sorry for."

"Poor little things, to have such looks—I'm sorry for them."

makes anything interesting, even if it may not be beautiful. If the baby gaters had no sharp noses they would never get out of their shells.

"No," said Miss Chamelion, "No, indeed," said Aunt Chamelion, "You see, alligators all that was going on. Such a scrambling and splashing as there was! Every one of those gaters seemed to be foraging for a meal—and they seemed to be getting it too."

"Look at their funny noses!" laughed Miss Chamelion. "I'd hate to be as ugly as they are! Poor little things, to have such looks—I'm sorry for them."

to demonstrate and measure human energy from an electrical standpoint. The operator may attach a bandage to the arm of a man and from this bandage are extended wires to the machine. The machine has little electric lights attached and as the emotions of the patient are agitated, the lights shift and change from red to blue.

When the operator comes within a few feet of the man and points his hand at him, the light will run up and shift its color. This changing lights is brought about by the influence of one human body on another, and this without the bodies coming into actual contact. It is a measuring of the influence of mind over matter.

Those who wish to see hypnotism, mind-reading, witchcraft and magnetism demonstrated have seen it with this machine. It also explains some of the problems of Spiritualism and shows that there are evidently unseen worlds, too fine to be appreciated by our coarse, dull senses.

Baby week, that great celebration in which New York honored King and Queen baby last week, had the cordial co-operation of the votes for women forces. They have any number of babies themselves.

In fact babies are distinctly popular in suffrage families, in spite of the impressions spread by Mr. and Mrs. John Martin and others, that the cause produces race suicide.

Suffs decline to feature their babies in public, and therefore the plan of a suff baby fair was frowned upon by the leaders. But the woman suffrage organizations of the city and state co-operated with the municipalities in celebration of Baby Week.

A debonair tourist was Caruso sailing for home last week. The pier echoed with the cheer of his friends, who came to wish him bon voyage. Caruso grows more popular each year. As the ship sailed away he was humming a tune—about $750 worth—and he shouted that he would return in October.

Turning The Tables. The feminist age seems to have arrived with a vengeance. In Illinois the women can vote, and now they can wear the bloomers while bathing. The official bathing beach censor of Chicago has spoken.

Chicago's male bathers will wear the skirts this summer while the women splash merrily around in bloomers. The municipal bathing costumes will stack up like this.

For Women—Bloomers, length or shortness unlimited, a waist no stockings.

For Men—Ordinary bathing suits bedecked with a short skirt about the length of a vambal's grass apron.

There is never any sure way to get a line on the mental attitude of the male population of any city, but if the men of Chicago are not a lot of mollycoddles they will tell the bathing censor, to take a jump in the lake or something of that sort. Chicago men owe it to their sex the world over to turn down the skirt idea once and for all.—Akron Beacon-Journal.

PORTSMOUTH GAINS TWO TRAINS ON THE C. & O.

Reinert, who is collector for the W. L. Reinert Clothing Company on Gallia street, was returning from a trip to New Boston.

Prof. Burton Reed, principal of the Sciotoville high school, has returned from his brother Horace Reed's bedside, near Chillicothe, O., about thirty-five miles east of Cincinnati.

Prof. Reed's brother was brutally assaulted by a farm hand last Monday afternoon. The farm hand, who answered to the name of Mahlon Hall, had quarreled with another tenant on the Reed farm and had hid himself in the Reed stable. When Reed went into the barn the man hit him on the head at the base of the brain with a rock and cut him about the head with a corn knife. The cuts penetrated to the skull.

Hall escaped to Kentucky before authorities arrived on the scene.

Mrs. Ida Reed, mother of Mr. Reed, is still at her son's bedside. Mrs. Reed lives in Sciotoville with her son Burton Reed. Word received late Wednesday was that Reed was still in a very serious condition.

Know Not "Impossible." Know that "impossible," where truth and mercy and the everlasting righteousness of our nature order, has no place in the living man's dictionary; that when all things are said "impossible" and humbled possibly elsewhere and thou alone standest left, then first thy time and opportunity have come. It is for thee now; do that, that, and ask no man's counsel; but do it even only and God's. Brother, hast thou not possibility in thee for much: the possibility of writing on the eternal tablets the record of a heroic life—of a life?
